CHARITY SOCIETY NOTES. Fitting Up a Work Hoom at No. 130

Steps were taken yesterday in the Charity society what may lead to important results. A load of lumber was deposited at the back door of the society's headquarters, No. 139 North Division street yesterday morning and in a short time two carpenters who have been cut of work a long time and whose families are suffering, were set at work rigging up a large room in the rear of the house, and from all that could be observed it appeared as if a work room were to be established. The room can easily be heated, a tailor's room could occupy one corner, a cobbler's bench another corner and other industries in other corners, so that men and women North Division Street. other corners, so that men and women who call for work may at least be allowed to earn a meal ticket. The plans of the executive committee are not yet fully developed in regard to the room, but present indications are that those who wish to work will be provided with it.

There are still many calls for women to go to the country to work, but few

The society has many women for whom it desires to get steady work at washing and ironing.
